OVERHEATING OF FACTORY TANK THE CAUSE.

Building Was Wrecked by Accident Eight Passengers Were Bruised and and Horse Killed by Flying Timbers-Loss Will Reach $10,000.

Joseph Zisiska and Joseph Koci, who were working in a passageway between the digester and the main building of the factory were showered with the molten grease and scalded Zisiska very seriously.

Two horses were standing near by, and the one farthest from the scene of the explosion was killed by flying timbers, while the other was unhurt.

The explosion occurred at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. A number of girls were working in one of the departments of the factory, and all were frightened by the explosion, but none were influred in the general rush to escape.

George Tower, the head of the company, estimates the loss at $10,000.

The digester building tanks were used for steaming tailow which is to be made into candles.

Frederick W. Fout Publishes the Book in German and Wrote It From Personal Experience.

Frederick W. Fout of St. Louis has recently published in German "A New Story of the Civil War," including a detailed account of the campaign of Gen. Schoffeld from Pulaski. Tenn., to Nashville, the Nashville campaign under Gen. Thomas, the North Carolina campaign, with a sketch of Sherman's march to the sea, and Stoneham and Wilson's raid near the close of the war. Mr. Fout writes largely from personal ex-

Policeman Little, who keeps a weather eye on Gallant's establishment, became interested, and he questioned Tommie. The boy admitted that he had taken the money from his mother, who lives at 1393 Chouteau avenue. Morris Burke, who lives with his parents at 1434 Papin street, was his companion, and Tommie was going to furnish the sinews of war if Morris would accompany him.

After the boys were safely stowed in the stronghold at the Four Courts, Mrs. Quinlan was notified, and she repaired to the Four Courts and took the boys back home.

Was on the bench. The greater number of the indictments returned were against proprieors of establishments in which slot machines were operated.

Five of the indictments were withheld from the public, and it is in this number that the greatest interest centers. Two of the number were against Julius Rosenberg, mayor of Granite City, that of malfeasance in office and attempt at bribery. Other residents of Granite City, that of malfeasance in office and attempt at bribery. Other residents of Granite City were before the fury on similar complaints to those placed against Mayor Rosenberg, but the body did not take action. Bond was fixed at two in each case brought against him. The witnesses from Granite City who indorsed the indictments are Henry Fossieck, an exmarshal, who was discharged May 1 by the mayor and city council Robert Townsen, John Bayer and Cornelius Wetzel, the last three being members of the police force.

For keeping slot machines and other gaming devices, 57 indictments were returned as follows: Frederick Nicholas, Louis Steritz, Frank Bauer, Joseph Smerge, Fred Immenga, Adam Wolf, Harry Getsinger, Louis Putze, John Bonner, John Kremer, Joseph Gesser, Charles Miller, John Monaghan, Jacob Tuscher, Edward and Arnold Roman, John Sekora, Thomas Lewis, Patrick Sweeney, William Lampe, William Foerster, Harry Ruhlman, Charles Renz, Pred Len, "harles Phayer, Jerry White-side, John Fota, Martin Courtney, Nicholas Liefferg & an W. Of the slot machine cases there were 12 from Edwardsville. 17 from Alton, 12 from Granite City and 18 from Venice. The witnesses in the Edwardsville cases, who indorsed the indictments, are: C. 'H. Bartels, Frank J. Barnett, Donnia Hotz, John Stolze and George Barraciough. To those from Alton the name of Fred Vollbacht, chief of police, was appended. From Venice, Frank Wagoner and John Kimbrel. The bond in each case was fixed at $250.

Mayor Rosenberg of Granite City said Saturday morning that he felt no uneasimess in the matter, and would not spend one cent towards securing legal services. He said his indictment was a piece of spite work of a few political enemies, and he has been assured by several friends that they would go his bond in any sum from $1000 to $19,000.

MINERS WILL NOT STRIKE.

Secretary Pope Says No Sympathetic Action Is Likely.

Secretary Joseph Pope of the Belleville district of the United Mine Workers of America declares that there will be no strike of the soft coal miners of Illinois in sympathy with the anthracite miners of Pennsylvania.

He said Friday hat it would be impossible for the Illinois miners to take a hand in the strike, because they were working, under a solemn compact with the Illinois operators, which they could not and would not violate. He characterized stories of an impending strike in the Illinois fields as absurd.

These stories, Mr. Pope thinks, have been inspired by operators and jobbers for the purpose of scaring timid manufacturers into stocking up with coal to guard against a shutdown.

A few days ago a news dispatch stated that the miners of the state were about to invest $175,000 in Sangamon County bonds, but had called the deal off because of the probability of being called out. OUR WORKING GIRLS. Help and Health for Those Who Now Cry, "Oh! Dear. I am Really Not

Well Enough to Work, But I am Obliged To."

How often these significant words are spoken in our great mills, shops, and factories by the poor girl who has worked herself to the point where nature can endure no more and demands a rest! The poor sufferer, broken in health must stand aside and make room for another. The foreman says, "If you are not well enough to work you must leave, for we must put some one in your place." Standing all day, week in and week out, or sitting in cramped positions, the poor girl has slowly contracted some deranged condition of her organic system, which calls a halt in her progress and demands restoration to health before she can be of use to herself or any one else.

To this class of women and girls Mrs. Pinkham proffers both sympathy and aid. When these distressing weaknesses and derangements assail you, remember that there is a remedy for them all. We have on record thousands of such cases that have been absolutely and permanents and by I add by I. The company of the c nently cured by Lydia E. the master of ceremonles—Mr. Maginn—has made up a splendid card of seven races, all of which, with the exception of the second, which is a 2-year-old event, are over a mile. This is what the public will appreciate, as it likes to see the horses circle the track and pass the judges' stand twice. There will be a race at a mile and 20 yards, one at a mile and 70 yards, two at a mile and a sixteenth, one at a mile and three-sixteenths, and cne at a mile and three-sixteenths, and cne at a mile and a half. This should be sufficient to satisfy the most fastidious racegoer, and will insure a grand day's sport.

THE DERBY IS FOURTH.

The event of the day, of course, will be the St. Louis Derby, fourth on the card. The field is a comparatively small one, comprising only nine, but they are the pick of the 2-year-old division in the Southwest, and weight and other circumstances considered are fairly matched.

The day's sport will open with a race at a mile and a sixteenth, and on Kate Freeman's race Thursday, in which she ran third to Varner, carrying 102 pounds, it would look as if she should win today with only 93 pounds in the saddle. Under favorable conditions he can reel off a mile in 1:40 or better. He is a different horse now than he was last April at Memphis, having greatly improved in his general appearance and also in his action. On two occasions at Montgomery Park last April Flora Pomona gave Terra Firms weight and a beating.

I do not believe she will be able to repeat either of these victories today and that she will yield to the great son of Berminda. At any distance-much less a mile and a half—I fail to see how Flora can beat Terra Firms in his present form. The track will be just a trifle slow, but Terra Firms can cover the Derby distance in 2:354.

All his recent work and races have been merely a preparation for today's event and he is as fit as it is possible for Mr. Cahn to have him. Flora Pomona has been shipped from point to point in the last two months, running at Memphis, Nashville, Latonia and Louisville, and now coming here to try to capture the Derby.

The Perverse Railway Car Window.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
Why is it that the fastening of the railway car window is placed on the righthand side? In openig a window to get a breath of fresh air in these sweltering days, one has to pinch the fastening with the right hand, while the weaker left hand is vainly tugging at the window, which usually sticks tight. One would think that the carmanufacturers were a lefthanded lot. I have also seen windows with fasteners on both sides, both of which had to be pinched hard before the window could be raised. Are the makers of such windows afraid that the cars will be burglarized? Why is any fastening needed on a railway car window?

He believed he had a good chance of winning, even with top weight, but when he saw that Very Light was selected by the Post-Dispatch expert, his opinions became a conviction, and he proceeded to flood the ring with good-sized wads of currency. Very Light is indebted for the victory to the splendid ride she received from Mike Coughlin.

Pat My Boy, who was well supported at 5 to 1, fell, and Choice broke down when he was leading. At one stage of the race it seemed almost an impossibility for Very Light to win, as she was a full sixteenth of a mile behind the leader, but the distance was long, and Coughlin waited.

Comma around for the last time he chaght Torreor and Jolo tiring, and, in a criving frish, beat out the list by 1 length. The rider on Jolo gave what seemed to Judge Bradley and to everybody else a criminal ride to the horse, and he was promptly ruled off for his tactics.

Willie Dale, who has just been reinstated, is again bearding the llon. The experience he has had should convince him that in riding, as in everything else, honesty is the best policy, but if he allows himself to be guided by an unscrupulous set of horsemen from another state, he will not only be set down temporarily, but he will be ruled off for life.

The ride be gave St. Cuthbert yesterday was shocking. He was off second, and he took him back last. This is not the way St. Cuthbert likes to run, as his record will show.

About 100 yards from the wire Dale commenced to ride for the benefit of the judge and grandstand, but it was evident to everybody that he made his move too late. It was doubtless also evident to Dale. Personally I thought Frank Bell would win, but St. Cuthbert could not have lost had Dale ridden him as he knows how. Ida Ledford made her first appearance of the season, looking in grant condition, and simply toyed with her field, winning in a canter by two lengths.

An unfortunate accident happened in the first race. Balzac stumbled and fell, throwing his lockey, Donegan. Right behind him came Pettijohn, with E. Mathe

The boy is still alive, but there are slim hopes of his recovery.
Four Leaf C., Bengal and Lofter had a nose finish in the fifth race. Bengal ran a remarkable race in such company, and if the distance had been a mile would doubtless have won.
Tenny Belle has dissipated the idea that she cannot go a distance. She finished a splendid third, being beaten only a head by Glenwood, who was a length back of the winner, Brewer Schorr.
A lot of very wise betters played Haviland strongly, but they overlooked his race against Varro a few days ago.
Haviland did not figure to be in the money and he ran his race.
Lexington Bess—at the liberal odds of 3 to 1—won the first race under double wraps. She can defeat a better field than was opposed to her yesterday, and she will be heard from again.

shut off and a careful but fruitless search was made.

Miss Bullen grieved acutely on Saturday night over the loss of a watch which had been given to her several years ago by her late father, the watch having been taken by the burglar who entered the Hollister home Saturday afternoon.

Several indefinite clews were secured today. She was seen on Sunday about 4 p. m. on Adams avenue near Broadway with two children. Mary Goff, a 10-year-old girl, who was once a pupil of Miss Bullen, says she saw her former teacher yesterday morning near the Central High School, and that she was acting strangely.

begin life in the metropolis is the result of his intimate relatons with Bourke Cockran, who is one of Davis' warmest admirers. Some time ago Cockran told Davis that his place was in New York, and that he intended to do his best to bring about an opening that would be attractive to Davis. That opening has materialized, and it can be safely said that it is Cockran who is responsible for Davis' latest move.
